Designs for new hospital released

IMAGES showing how a planned £160million hospital on the edge of Basingstoke will look have been released.

Kier Construction was confirmed as the preferred builder for the £160m contract with Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (HHFT) last Tuesday, while architecture companies Stride Treglown and Hassells have been selected to co-design the proposed hospital south-west of the town.

Stride Treglown's lead designer Daniel Van Luttmer said: "We are delighted to have led the design team for this pioneering hospital project.

"Combining the trust's innovative healthcare provision with the site's rural location, we have been able to design a hospital that can deliver rapid emergency care to those who need it most, in a location that promotes the positive health benefits of nature, and aids people's recovery further."

An £18.5m cancer treatment centre, pathology laboratories, and maternity unit are among plans for the critical treatment centre campus – the size of six football pitches.

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council received a planning application for the site just north of junction 7 of the M3, near North Waltham, in April.

If approved, the hospital would treat critically ill patients – those with life threatening injuries, heart attacks or strokes.

If permission is granted work is planned to start on the 42,000-m² site in April 2016.

HHFT chief executive Mary Edwards said: "Creating this hospital means we can make services even safer for the sickest and most at risk and provide even higher quality care and better outcomes for patients.

"We will be able to provide consultant-delivered care and critical care services 24/7 in one central place – a model to lead the way for the NHS."

BASINGSTOKE: Basingstoke MP Maria Miller has given her backing to North Hampshire's Motor Neurone Disease Association (MNDA).

Mrs Miller met with sufferers of the disease from her constituency at a parliamentary reception in Church House, at London's Westminster last Wednesday.

She said: "It is essential that individuals with MND are given the support they need as it is needed."

"I congratulate the North Hampshire MNDA group for the excellent support they provide to those living with this disease and their families."

Chatroom show

BASINGSTOKE: A dramatic performance focussing on the subjects of social media, depression and suicide will be on show tomorrow and Friday as part of the Basingstoke Festival.

Performed by six teenagers from In Yer Face Productions, the one-hour show will take place from 7.30pm until 8.30pm on both nights.

They will be performed at Queen Mary's College in Old-Desden Road.

Blake Cook

POPLEY: The bail of a 42-year-old woman arrested in connection with the death of Popley schoolboy Blake Cook has been extended to July 23 – police have confirmed.

The 15-year-old Everest Community Academy pupil suffered from Type 1 diabetes and is thought to have died after suffering a heart attack at a house in Fountains Close, Popley, on February 25.

It is the second time that the woman has had her police bail extended.

It was previously set as May 19, before then being changed to June 16.

Spiderdad is shooting for YouTube web fame

BASINGSTOKE YouTube hero Spiderdad is hoping his new mini movie will become the world's most viewed clip on the web.

Mike Wilson's latest internet exploit called The Amazing Spiderdad, released a week on Saturday, has clocked up 210,000 views.

The action-packed Spiderman adventure celebrates the life of his five-year-old son Jayden, who died on Christmas Eve from a brain tumour.

"I want it to be watched more times than Gangnam Style," 33-year-old Mike said.

"If everyone in the world watches this, it will change so many lives."

Mike, from Beggarwood, shot to YouTube fame last year after

• Five-year-old Jayden was a massive Spiderman fan

By Christian Wilson

christian@taylornewspapers.co.uk

a video of him surprising terminally ill Jayden for his birthday clocked up more than 10 million YouTube hits.

The clip shows Mr Wilson jumping off the roof of their home dressed as Jayden's favourite superhero, Spiderman.

The freerunner stars in the film as Basingstoke's crime-stopping Spiderdad in the five-minute clip.

The mini movie, all shot in the town, features Mike in a Spiderman suit executing death defying stunts and combat scenes with the help of state-of-the-art special effects.

And in between helping police capture two bank robbers and saving a girl from being mugged, Mike is tasked with picking up nappies from a shop for his four-month-old son Kelan.

He returns home safe to wife Lou, seven-year-old daughter Ella, and baby Kelan.

Mike's close friend and team-mate at 3Run freerunning group, Adam Brashaw, directed the short film.

• Mike Wilson, aka Spiderdad, avoiding a punch

He said: "Our main objective was to make it look as real as possible so that we could immortalise Jayden in film forever."

"It was so fun to do and I'm really pleased with how well it's come together."

Mike started work on his new film last November with the intention of his son watching the final cut with him and the rest of the family.

He said: "It was heart breaking to know that he would never see it, but I knew I had to carry on and finish the job for someone who has become my hero."

"Jayden loved Spiderman and would've loved to see his face and name alongside him."

All the money raised from the video will go to Naomi House children's hospice in Sutton Scotney, as part of the family's Hope From Jayden charity campaign.

They have already raised over £20,000 for the hospice, which supported the family during and after Jayden's battle.

Naomi House spokesman Keith Wilson said: "Mike has really amazed us with his incredible fundraising."

"He's such an inspirational guy with boundless enthusiasm."

A film for five-year-old Jayden

JAYDEN Wilson was born without any known complications but he was taken to hospital by his parents in August 2013 after falling and bumping his head.

Once there doctors performed a CT scan and found irregularities.

The youngster was taken to Southampton Children's Hospital for an MRI scan.

On September 10, Jayden's parents were told their son had a Grade 4 brain stem tumour and only had a year left to live.

But Jayden exceeded all doctor's expectations, before tragically passing away in his sleep at home on Christmas Eve over 15 months later.

The energetic five-year-old was a happy Hatch Warren St Mark's Primary School pupil and huge Spiderman fan.

Naomi House

JAYDEN'S family have been raising money for local charity Naomi House children's hospice ever since his death.

The children's hospice in Sutton Scotney helped support them.

They have already raised over £20,000 so far.

The fundraising film follows an overnight rowing challenge and a superhero-themed day in the town centre.

Mike is also aiming to raise £14,000 in September by climbing Mount Kilimanjaro.

Chef misses out on national award

A CHEF from Basingstoke has vowed to bounce back after narrowly missing out on a national award at the 'cooking Oscars'.

Head chef and landlord at the Sun Inn at Dummer, Gordon Stott was named among the best three pub chefs in the country at the Craft Guild of Chefs awards last week.

The 24-year-old was narrowly beaten to the title of Pub Chef of the Year by head chef of The Chequers in Eversley Cross, Ray Brenner.

He said: "It was such an honour to even be nominated, never mind actually making the final three."

"Unfortunately it was not meant to be, but hopefully I'll be given the chance to win it next year."

The awards, which are dubbed the cooking industry's Oscars, was held at London's Park Lane Hotel last Monday night.

Gordon added: "A lot of people said I was robbed, but at the end of the day, the judges go from what they see and what they hear, so I can't really complain."

Housing waiting list U-turn divides cllrs

By Christian Wilson

christian@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Labour leader Gary Watts has blasted the government's involvement in local affairs

BASINGSTOKE'S council was forced to make a U-turn on changes to its housing waiting list at a cabinet meeting last night.

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council made its housing allocation policy stricter in December to purge more than 3,000 people off its housing waiting list of 8,000 people.

One of the new rules meant people had to have a 'local connection' to Basingstoke to qualify for council housing.

But councillors were forced to reverse that rule last night because of a new government law introduced in April making it illegal to block people without a local connection from the waiting list if they need to, such as for a job.

Basingstoke's Labour leader Gary Watts said: "The government says it is all for localism, but their involvement is another blow to that."

"If people come here from Scotland to work, they will have the priority over people from Basingstoke on the list and that's disgraceful.

"It will just exacerbate the problems we already have and will cause resentment throughout the community."

A Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council report from last year estimated 1,130 people would have been removed from the list because they did not have strong local connections.

But the council's portfolio holder for housing and regeneration, Terri Reid, predicted only one person on the current waiting list will be affected by the new alteration.

Cllr Reid, the council's deputy leader, said: "The change in the housing allocations policy being implemented is a very minor change which has been required by the government and all councils must comply."

"The Basingstoke policy enshrines the principal of local homes for local people and was developed as a result of extensive consultation with local residents and partners and reflects their wishes."

Liberal Democrat councillor Gavin James suggested the new changes would actually be of benefit to the area.

He said: "Clearly it's the government's policy and it's out of our control, which is unfortunate."

"But we have an ageing population and can't afford to run out of nurses and teachers, which means other people will need to move here."

"As long as we make sure that these people benefit the existing community, I don't have any issues with it."

Council deputy leader Terri Reid has played down the change

BASINGSTOKE: Two Basingstoke theatre groups are set to be granted use of a Top of Town building for rehearsal for the next year.

Basingstoke Amateur Theatrical Society (BATS) and BATS Next Generation (BNG) approached Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council about renting space at the Market Chambers' building in Church Street.

It is understood that the groups have agreed to pay £6,000 a year for use of the two floors.

Snowdonia quest

BASINGSTOKE: Four members of staff from Basingstoke nursery Kiddi Caru helped raise £6,000 for charity through a Snowdonia charity challenge.

The event on June 13 saw the team embark on two 20 mile cycle rides, climb up Mount Snowdon and canoe around Lyn Gwynant.

All of the money raised went to Home-Start UK.

4th of July

BASINGSTOKE: Basingstoke and North Hampshire Hospital will host an American western themed family fundraising event next month.

The event will be held at the Haemophilia, Haemostasis and Thrombosis centre on July 4, with all funds raised going towards the unit.

Residents party in Basingstoke Festival

• Children getting into the festival spirit at Eastrop Park

By Christian Wilson

christian@taylornewspapers.co.uk

MORE than 1,000 people helped bring summer to life in the baking sun on Friday evening to launch the Basingstoke Festival.

People packed the streets of the town centre to celebrate carnival style, as a mass parade of colour, dancers and a marching band made its way from Eastrop Park to Top of Town.

Leading the carnival procession was a nine-metre long mechanical disco turtle that slowly trudged up the hill in Wote Street to the Willis Museum to the beat of drums with summer-time music blasting from the reptile itself.

Sitting atop the giant turtle and stirring up the party atmosphere was chief entertainer and parade DJ Amy West from the attraction's creator Emergency Exit Arts.

She said: "Basingstoke is a bit smaller than some of the places we've been to this year, but the people more than made up for that with their enthusiasm."

"It was so lovely to see how involved everyone was getting and how happy the kids were."

"I don't know if the people had solar panels attached to their backs or something, but they were so energetic today."

The turtle makes its next appearance at Glastonbury Festival this weekend.

About 300 schoolchildren and performers from JD Dance, Proteus Theatre Company, Youth Theatre and Basingstoke Academy of Dance started the mile long trip from Eastrop Park at 5.15pm, with music by Basingstoke jazz band Ingenious Gentleman and a band of drummers closing the procession around an hour later.

The event kick started 24 days of continuous entertainment as part of the Basingstoke Festival.

Festival coordinator Julia Tymukas said: "The festival is growing every year, and the large turnout and diverse range of different people here for the parade has shown that."

"This is a festival for everyone in Basingstoke, not just a few people - it's all about creating a partnership with the community."

"There were a lot of kids here and we want the colours, the music and the happiness evident at this parade to stay with them and become a life-long memory of theirs."

Friday's free event followed last month's firebird procession through town, which defied rainy conditions to raise excitement for the countdown to the festival, run by Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council.

Cathy Osselton, portfolio holder for partnerships, said: "I'd like to congratulate everyone involved for creating a fantastic opening parade."

"It's a great start but this is just the beginning of what's going to be a fantastic 24 days of entertainment for people from across Basingstoke and Deane."

• Dancers in Wote Street in front of the giant turtle (photos by Marcus Leon)

Vox Box

Ian May-Miller, 52, from the Viabes: It was a really good and fun way to start the festival and now I can't wait for the rest of the programme.

Kathy May-Miller, 51, from the Viabes: It's been lovely to see smiles on everyone's faces. Days like this are what summer is all about.

Benicio Cranham, nine, from Rooksdown: I really loved the turtle and all of the bright colours decorating it. It was so cool how the arms and legs kept moving as well - it looked really realistic.

You are never too young for cancer

By Christian Wilson

christian@taylornewspapers.co.uk

A CANCER survivor from Winklebury has become the face of a national campaign to change people's perceptions about the illness.

Kevin Summers, 34, was diagnosed with bowel cancer two years ago after being told by doctors five months before that there was no chance of him having the disease.

Despite being the first to admit he knew nothing about cancer up until that point, Mr Summers has pleaded with people of all ages to get themselves checked before it is too late.

He said: "When I was told, I turned grey and all the blood drained from my face."

"It was a really scary time in my life because once you hear the dreaded C word, you automatically think you're on a countdown."

"Back then, all I knew about cancer was from what I'd seen on Eastenders, and those stories never usually finish with a happy ending."

Mr Summers was diagnosed the day after his 32nd birthday despite nobody in his family having the illness and 9 out of 10 suffers usually being over the age of 60.

He had surgery to remove the cancer and has since dedicated himself to raising awareness of the dangers for charity Bowel Cancer UK's Never Too Young campaign.

He said: "I felt pretty normal right up until my diagnosis, so when I was told, it hit me like a train."

"What Bowel Cancer UK do is brilliant and the message they're trying to get across is so important."

"People never think it's going to happen to them, but it really doesn't matter how old you are."

"It's all about people knowing more about the warning signs - so many lives could be saved if they did."

Bowel cancer is one of the most common types of the disease, with 40,000 new cases in the UK every year.

Symptoms include blood in the stool, abdominal pain and changes in bowel habit.

Councillor's Corner

Gary Watts

Labour Leader for Basingstoke and Deane

'Debate on housing needed'

THE Government has stated that the borough of Basingstoke and Deane must build a minimum of 850 homes per year until 2029.

Over the past five years the borough has only built approximately 40 affordable homes per year against a yearly target of over 300.

We have thousands of local residents on the council housing needs register.

At a recent council meeting it was reported that the borough has a local infrastructure shortfall of £141million.

There is a major risk that we will not get this extra funding for this infrastructure development.

I think the time has come for us to debate - do we need all this extra housing growth if we cannot secure a firm commitment to affordable homes for the people of Basingstoke and fund the infrastructure which will be needed to support all these new homes?

Last year the government granted planning permission for 320 homes to be built on Kennel Farm opposite Basingstoke Golf Club.

But the primary schools in Hatch Warren and Kempshott are at full capacity, so the children will have to go to Park View Primary School in South Ham.

No public transport provisions have been made to transfer the children to South Ham so parents will have to drive or walk several miles to Park View School.

This is a ridiculous decision.

As leader of the Labour group on Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council I will be campaigning to secure affordable homes for the people of Basingstoke and Deane so that they benefit from this extra housing growth, and not just commuters.

Charity bike ride

ODIHAM: Odiham Cycling Club will host their first sport fundraiser this summer with a charity bike ride.

Three different routes, an eight mile, 40 mile or 60 mile, will be available at the Tour of the Candover cycling sportive.

All routes will start and finish at Robert May's School in Odiham on Sunday, August 16, and cost £12, £16 or £20.

Proceeds raised will go to chosen charity Naomi House in Sutton Scotney.

Volunteer appeal

TADLEY: An appeal has been launched for volunteers to help maintain a Tadley football complex.

Barlow's Park Management Association is looking for help running the centre off Silchester Road.

Volunteers would help with gardening, decorating and the group's website.

Anyone interested is asked to call 0118 9817367.

Employment rise

HAMPSHIRE: Former deputy leader of Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council Rani Jayawardena has welcomed new figures showing a 70 per cent drop in those claiming Jobseeker's Allowance in North East Hampshire since 2010.

The North East Hampshire MP said: "We're committed to go further to offer working people security at every stage of their life."

The Office for National Statistics figures were out on Thursday.

Pink army unite to fight cancer

MORE than two thousand women from across Basingstoke banded together in pink last Wednesday in an attempt to beat cancer sooner.

Grandmothers, mothers and daughters all dressed in pink put their ages and abilities to one side to take part in the Basingstoke Race for Life.

In total 2,130 people ran the Cancer Research UK 5k event at Down Grange Sports Complex in Pack Lane, each with their own reasons for joining the fight.

Among them was 25-year-old Chineham hairdresser Lauren Ramsay, who lost her grandmother Maggie Ramsay to throat and lung cancer when she was just one year old.

She said: "I never really got to know my nan because of cancer and I don't want others to go through the same thing I did and have that void."

"I would do anything to stop this disease - it was the fourth time I've done Race for Life and I'll definitely be back again next year."

"There was a great energy about the whole place and it felt so personal and empowering.

"Complete strangers stayed until the end to cheer people across the line, it was just fantastic."

Another person putting her boot into cancer was 25-year-old South Ham resident Amy Bonner, who was competing in the event for the 13th time.

She said: "It was such an amazing day with an incredible atmosphere."

"I was running with a bad knee and I'm really aching now, but it was all worth it and I will 100 per cent be doing it again next year."

Last year's event saw £138,109 raised for Cancer Research UK and organisers are hoping this year will break that total.

Event manager Fiona Miller said: "I want to say a heartfelt thanks to everyone who took part in Race for Life, as well as our heroic volunteers."

"It was a fantastic day, full of emotion, courage, tears and laughter as over 2,100 women joined forces to beat cancer sooner."

"Now I'm asking all the women who took part to transform their passion into progress by returning the money they've raised."

Jobhunters drop by 30 per cent

UNEMPLOYMENT is on the decline in Basingstoke - new figures have revealed.

A total of 855 people from across the area were registered as unemployed and claiming Jobseekers Allowance at the end of May.

This is a 30.5 per cent drop from 1,229 twelve months earlier, and a 30.4 per cent drop from 1,115 in May 2010.

The results, released by the Office for National Statistics on Thursday, also found 145 people from Basingstoke between 18 and 24 years old were unemployed - a 35.5 per cent drop from 225 last year and a 78 per cent decrease on 510 five years ago.

Basingstoke MP Maria Miller said: "These figures demonstrate that here in Basingstoke there are increasing numbers of people in work."

"That means more people have the security of employment and a regular pay packet, so they can provide for themselves and their families."

One of the reasons was put down to the work of Job Centre Plus, which has helped find work experience and trials at local businesses for those struggling to find a job.

Job Centre Plus' North Hampshire account manager, Sarah Crewe-Read, said: "These are fantastic results for Basingstoke and are testament to the hard work of our work coaches."

Concept to hit the road on UK tour

BASINGSTOKE boy band Concept will fulfill a life-long ambition next month by embarking on their first ever UK tour.

The five former Queen Mary's College students will play in front of thousands of people as part of X Factor finalist Jake Quickenden's 11 night Laid Bare tour.

And having sold out Basingstoke's 400 capacity Haymarket Theatre in less than 24 hours back in April, the group feel that they are ready to take the next step on the road.

Band member Nathan Gittens said: "We've always wanted to go on tour."

"That's always been the dream - so now that we're doing it for real, it's just amazing."

"Our new music went down an absolute storm at the Haymarket and now we want the rest of the country to hear it."

"We've never really done anything like this before but we feel like we're ready now and can't wait to get started."

The five-piece of Nathan, 20, Matt Goodenough, 21, Karim Newton, 21, Ben Selley, 20, and Scott Dicks, 21, were formed four years ago, and rose to fame last year when they reached the judge's houses stage of TV talent show the X Factor.

Mentor Louis Walsh's decision not to send the childhood friends through to the finals of the TV talent show ended their X Factor dream, but Nathan insisted that the band never feared that rejection would prove to be the end of the group.

He said: "We were disappointed because the decision didn't go our way, but we knew that we would have to quickly put it behind us if we were going to get to where we wanted to be."

"Our fans have been with us from the beginning and have never given up on us and we are so grateful for that."

Concept will play at the London Islington O2, Leeds O2 and Bristol O2 Academy amongst others during the 11 stop tour, which begins on July 13 and ends on July 24.

Nathan added: "We're so proud to be flying the flag for Basingstoke and feel that we're ready to play at big venues."

"It's great to achieve stuff like this, but it's even better to look to your left and right and see that your mates are on the journey with you."

"This tour is all about building towards something bigger - 2016 will be our year for sure."

Budding scientists showcase talents at technology challenge

ABOUT 300 students from all across Hampshire have flocked to a renowned annual science workshop in Chineham.

Youngsters were invited to take part in a number of activities and competitions as scientists and engineers from leading global start-up companies showcased the latest technology.

The budding scientists were brought together as part of TeenTech Hampshire - a local string of the national educational event TeenTech, which encourages teenagers to take up careers in the industry.

TeenTech Hampshire is organised by local education charity Basingstoke Consortium, who work with schools and businesses from the area to develop young talent.

Basingstoke Consortium CEO

Sue Riley said: "No-where else could young people gain access to such cutting-edge technology, aspirational business ambassadors and inspirational leaders."

"We are hugely proud to once again be part of TeenTech."

The fourth annual workshop took place at the Hampshire Court Hotel in Chineham on June 11, with prizes for challenges including a filming experience day at Pinewood Studios and a tour of the Atomic Weapons Establishment (AWE) Orion laser facility.

TeenTech co-founder Maggie Philbin said: "Basingstoke has an array of world class companies and they were also able to meet their future talent and consider how they might do more to support and develop the enthusiasm generated by the day."

OCT will give accurate diagnosis:

- AMD
- Diabetic Maculopathy
- Macular Hole
- Epiretinal Membrane
- Early detection of Glaucoma

*It is estimated that approximately 2% of people over the age of 40 will have Glaucoma.

*Statistics obtained from The International Glaucoma Association.

What is an OCT scan?

This practice has invested in the very latest OCT scanning technology.

An Optical Coherence Tomography (OCT) scan is a unique test which uses near-infrared light reflected off the retina to produce a high resolution 3-Dimensional scan of the retina and associated structures.

It is particularly useful in the assessment of patients with AMD, Diabetic Maculopathy, early detection of Glaucoma and the management of these diseases. The test is non invasive, quick and entirely painless.

Am I at risk of Glaucoma?

Are you over 40?
Do you have a family history of Glaucoma?
Are you short sighted?
Do you have diabetes?
Are you of African-Caribbean origin?

If the answer is yes to any of these questions, then you are at an increased risk and should definitely have your eyes tested regularly.*

Why has this practice invested in OCT?

We believe this advanced imagery allows us to detect and monitor early stages of diseases and as this examination is not available under the NHS, we make an additional charge for this scan. Please ask for further details.

This assessment of your eyes using OCT Technology will give us the most accurate diagnosis possible and help us give you the best advice to protect your sight and the health of your eyes.

Your eyes deserve the benefits of cutting edge technology available at this practice.

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Blue in Basingstoke

"WE'VE been around for so many years and I sometimes think, 'do people still want to see or hear Blue?'" - band member Antony Costa admitted.

But his concerns have been relayed ahead of Blue's visit to Basingstoke's Plush Lounge Bar on Friday, July 3.

The nostalgic blast from the past follows a roller coaster journey for the band, of Simon Webbe, Antony Costa, Duncan James and Lee Ryan.

Blue took the new Millennium by storm after their formation in 2001, with three number one singles and three number one albums.

And playing live has obviously still not lost its thrill.

Antony told the Observer: "When the crowd see or hear us, it's a fantastic feeling."

"I love performing in the UK as it's our home crowd."

"When we tend to do stuff in the UK, I have to pinch myself as I still can't believe it."

But after the group went on a hiatus in 2005, all four members embarked on solo careers and various other projects before reuniting in 2009 to perform at the Silverstone Classic Festival.

Now with two new albums under their belt along with an appearance at

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Eurovision, Antony is hoping the future will be bright for the former boy band.

And in their 14 years the band has had countless highlights.

But top of Anthony's list was a 1940s themed concert and party held on May 9 on Horse Guards Parade in London to commemorate the 70th anniversary of Victory in Europe Day marking the end of the Second World War.

"Performing at VE Day 70: A Party to Remember in May is probably one of my greatest highlights of my career," the 34-year told the Observer.

"It was an amazing experience. 13 years ago we performed at the Queen's Jubilee and that itself was an incredible experience, but to celebrate 70 years of VE Day was...well...it was just an honour being asked."

"It was a fantastic evening that was well enjoyed by everyone."

Blue will be on stage at 11.30pm for their Basingstoke show at the bar in Wote Street.

The Ripper Murders

PREPARE to sit on the edge of your seat when 'Sherlock Holmes and The Ripper Murders' makes its way to The Haymarket from Wednesday, June 24, to Saturday, June 27.

Performed by Talking Scarlett Theatre Company, the audience will see Sherlock Holmes use his intelligence, quick thinking and wit to try and capture Jack the Ripper, the 1888 to 1891 Whitechapel murderer.

Samuel Clemens, who will be playing the famous detective at the Wote Street venue, told the Observer he thanks one actor in particular for changing the Sherlock Holmes' persona.

"I thank Benedict Cumberbatch!" he told the Observer.

"I thank him because he paved the way for a younger mould of Holmes to exist, and he changed the Basil Rathbone image.

"I am about the same age he was when he started playing the role on TV, and it is a truly iconic role.

"I have always wanted to play him but

jamesr@taylornewspapers.co.uk

never in a million years thought I'd be cast as him."

Based on the real life events during the 19th century, five or more women were murdered by a serial killer over a three-year period, who to this very day has never been discovered.

After Mary Ann Nichols' death on August 31, 1888, the 'Whitechapel File' was opened to try and catch the murderer. However, by November 9 that year four more women were killed, which led to major news coverage across London and the UK in order to capture the criminal.

And despite the police having listed over 100 suspects, the file was officially closed in 1891.

The play sees Sherlock Holmes and Dr John H Watson drawn into one of the darkest plots ever to shake England.

"The audience can expect a fresh take

• Samuel Clemens

on a classic character and on a true criminal," Sam explained.

"Marrying the two together forges the way for a lovely conspiracy with many twists and turns along the way, but set in the reality of arguably the most famous serial killer hunt in history."

Sam added: "The best part of performing in a thriller is when you are really bouncing off the other actors."

"It's like boxing. You learn your jabs, uppercuts, hooks etc but when you get in the ring anything can happen.

"It really is a riveting play."

Six shows will be held at The Haymarket, with tickets costing £11 to £20.

Phoenix film

THIS year's blockbuster 'The Theory of Everything' will be screened at The Phoenix Theatre and Arts Centre on Wednesday, July 1.

Starring Eddie Redmayne and Felicity Jones, the hit film follows the journey of how Stephen Hawking and Jane Wilde fell in love at Cambridge University.

The film, which is rated a 12A, begins at 7.30pm.

Tickets cost from £3.50 to £5.

Summer Fete

ON Saturday, July 4, the Abbey Court Summer Fete will take place.

The event, in Popley Way, starts at 2pm and lasts for three hours.

A table top sale and cake sale will run during the day.

Contact George Newbury on 07795 245 485 for details.

Justin Hayward

LEAD singer and guitarist of The Moody Blues Justin Hayward will be at The Anvil on July 7.

The 68-year old from Swindon is touring the country following the release of his 2013 album 'Spirits of the Western Sky'.

The Churchill Way gig starts at 7.30pm, with tickets costing £38.

"Sibelius' Karelia Suite was one of his first great successes, using music written for a patriotic pageant in a region of Finland close to the Russian border. Glazunov's passionately lyrical and undeservedly overlooked Violin Concerto dates from 1904, a period when the composer was at the height of his creative powers. Sibelius' second symphony was written largely in Italy and inhabits a very different musical world from the northern darkness of his first. Peugeot's new 308 GTi on show PEUGEOT'S new 308 GTi is on show for the first time today at Goodwood and Festival of Speed.

The five-door hatch is on display as part of the Moving Motor Show, which starts the Sussex car fest today.

It's Goodwood debut runs until Sunday.

Developed by Peugeot Sport, the rival to the Seat Leon Cupra and Ford Focus ST follows on from the 308's success.

It was crowned the European Car of the Year ahead of models from BMW and Telsa.

The new 308 GTi will be available in two models, the 250hp and 270hp.

"Peugeot's is proud to add the 308 GTi by Peugeot Sport to its stable," Peugeot's brand CEO Maxime Picat said.

"From the 205 GTi to the latest 208 GTi and RCZ R, the brand has sold its sportier models to over 800,000 delighted customers.

"What's more is that the 308 GTi is a symbol of the brand's dynamism and upmarket shift."

Powered by a 1.6-litre Stop&Start petrol engine, the 308 GTi has redesigned door sills to give the car a more aggressive look.

While the new rear design features a gloss-black section housing the twin exhaust pipes.

Inside red stitching is used on the upholstery, door panels, gear lever and floor mats.

And the door sill carries the GTi and Peugeot Sport signature and is finished in aluminum.

The same material is used on the pedals, foot rest and gear knob.

With a wider track of 1,570mm at the front and 1,554mm at the rear, the 308 GTi has been engineered for strong grip.

GTi 250 versions will come with Michelin Pilot Sport 3 tyres on 'Diamond' alloy wheels.

And the GTi 270 versions feature new 19-inch 'Carbon' light-weight alloy wheels.

These are equipped with Michelin Super Sport tyres which showcase the 380mm front discs, complete with solid red four-piston callipers.

The 308 Ti 250 by Peugeot Sport is priced from 26,555 with the 308 GTi 270 costing from £28,155.

The new Peugeot 308 GTi will go on sale in the UK from September.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.

That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Hockey star Danson leads Team GB to Rio

ALEX Danson will fly to Rio de Janeiro next year after playing a major role in Great Britain women's qualification to the Olympic games last weekend.

The Odiham hockey player scored as Team GB beat China 2-0 on Sunday to win the World League Semi-Final and ensure that her team made it through the competition with a perfect record.

Victory over China in the final

By Christian Wilson

christian@taylornewspapers.co.uk

was the women's seventh on the bounce.

That win came 24 hours after they had confirmed their passage to Brazil with a narrow 1-0 victory over Germany.

Great Britain went into the competition knowing that they would be guaranteed an opportunity to improve on their bronze medal at London 2012 if they made it into the final three.

And they took no chances in the tournament, winning every game in Valencia to reserve their place in Rio.

Danson was part of the side that claimed third place three years ago and the forward was in great form in Spain as she scored four goals.

Efforts against both the host nation and Canada during the pool stage saw the 30-year-old move up to second in the all-time scoring list.

She then increased her international record to 37 goals with a strike in the quarter final against South Africa and one more in Sunday's final.

Hollie Webb's penalty corner gave Team GB the lead over China, before Danson sealed the victory after diving full length to convert captain Kate Richardson-Walsh's cross.

Speaking after the final, Richardson-Walsh said: "We said at the beginning of the tournament that we'd take one game at a time and build momentum, and that's what we've done."

She added: "I've played with Alex for a long time and it was really sweet to link up and see that corner come off."

Great Britain forward Alex Danson will be hoping to improve on the bronze medal she won with the Team GB women's hockey team at London 2012

Bison add forward Pitchley to the roster

ICE HOCKEY: British forward JJ Pitchley has become the third new player to join the Basingstoke Bison this summer.

The 21-year-old signed for the Herd last Thursday from the Bracknell Bees - having recorded seven points in 13 games for the English Premier Ice Hockey League's basement side last campaign.

Pitchley also led the scoring charts for the Bracknell Hornets in the National Ice Hockey League South 1 with 54 points.

His signing follows the capture of goalkeeper Tomas Hladivsky and forward Shaun Thompson.

Archibald makes first cut of year to tie tenth spot

GOLF: Basingstoke golfer Stuart Archibald managed to make the cut at a Euro Pro Tour event for the first time this season last week.

Successive poor displays at the World Snooker Open, Buildbase Open and Kerry London Championship encouraged the 31-year-old to take a two-week spell away from the game.

But Archibald looked much better on his return at the Grenke Championship in Cumberwell Park, Wiltshire, as he finished Friday's play tied for tenth position with an overall score of -3 - having shot rounds of 67, 72 and 71.

Town confirm re-signing of defender Gasson

FOOTBALL: Basingstoke Town defender Jay Gasson has become the 12th member of last season's squad to re-sign for the club.

The 30-year-old suffered a frustrating campaign last time around as a broken toe limited his playing time as the Dragons mounted a push for promotion that eventually saw them lose out in the Conference South play-offs.

Gasson said: "It was an annoyance to be injured last season, but injuries happen and I want to get back to the level I was before that."

The defender has made over 200 appearances since joining the club in 2010 from Havant and Waterlooville.

Basingstoke's league ambitions take a battering in the rain

POOR weather and a strong Bournemouth CC batting performance conspired together to condemn Basingstoke and North Hants to their second defeat of the season on Saturday.

The Bountymen went into the tie flying high on confidence after demolishing table toppers New Milton seven days earlier in the shortest ever game in Southern League history.

But an hour long rain delay early in the home side's innings at May's Bounty meant that there was no chance of a repeat.

Instead the stoppage ensured that Bournemouth had to chase a reduced target of 199 from 44 overs to win.

After Basingstoke posted an innings of 210 all out, the visitors managed to pass the altered run mark with just four balls to spare to win by two wickets.

After winning the toss, Bournemouth elected to field first, and their decision immediately bore fruit.

First Craig Williamson was trapped lbw off his first ball, and then captain Chris Froud (3) followed him to leave the Bountymen on 7-2.

Rain soon followed, with the delay actually helping Basingstoke as Mitch Stokes (46) and Steve Bucksey (26) put on a strong third wicket partnership before both being dismissed to leave their side on 97-4.

The bowling of Michael Kitson (3-60) and Joshua Finnie (2-25) then tore through the batting order, before a crucial knock of 46 not out from Christopher Oliver aided the cause.

Whereas the Bountymen had started their innings poorly, Bournemouth did the opposite, with openers Andrew Hayward (32) and Martin Miller (18) hitting the ground running.

Basingstoke bowlers Rakitha Perera (3-46) and Stokes (3-31) soon put an end to that partnership however.

A superb 96 off 70 balls from Finnie would go on to make the biggest difference though, to help the Dorset club pass the 199 mark and end on 201-8.

Defeat saw the Bountymen slip into third spot in the Southern League Division One table behind Hook and Newnham Basics and New Milton, whose match was cancelled last weekend due to rain.

AMERICAN DREAM IS OVER AFTER BELOW PAR SHOWING

JUSTIN Rose finished way off the pace last weekend as he aimed to repeat his success at the tournament that had provided him with his sole major victory two years earlier.

The North Hampshire golfer closed day four in Washington with a final round score of 71 (+1) to finish the tournament tied for 27th place.

Rose's overall score of +5 was 10 shots behind eventual winner Jordan Spieth, who became only the sixth player in the sport's history to win both the US Open and the Masters in the same year.

The 2013 US Open Winner went into the showpiece at Chambers Bay in confident mood after suffering a narrow play-off defeat at the Memorial Tournament 11 days earlier following a strong display.

By Christian Wilson

But Rose never really looked like troubling Texan counterpart Spieth this time around, with a low-key display that saw him fail to finish under par in any of his four rounds.

The 34-year-old started Thursday's play in perfect fashion claiming a birdie at the first hole.

But that was to be one of only two birdies in his opening round.

Rose then bogeyed the fourth, before bogeying three of the last four holes at 15, 17 and 18 to finish ish day one seven shots off the pace on 72 (+2).

Rose improved slightly on the second day as he carded an even score of 70, with birdies at one, eight, 10, 14 and 16 - although a triple-bogey at seven cost him and ensured that he remained seven shots off the pace.

Worse was to follow on Saturday though, as bogeys at three, six and 12, and a double bogey at five ended any dwindling hopes he had of making a late push.

Rose's score of 72 (+2) left him eight shots off the lead going into the final day, and that gap was increased further by the close of play, with a double bogey at the par-four 16th summing up a frustrating few days for the man ranked number four in the world.

• Justin Rose tied for 27th place at the US Open in Washington last weekend
